

Medical Career Pathways with Bendigo Health

Urology

Bendigo Health's Urology Unit is a leading regional tertiary service providing comprehensive and highly specialised care to patients across north-west Victoria. Supported by three experienced consultant urologists, the service manages a diverse and complex caseload that would typically be seen in larger metropolitan centres.

As a major referral hub for the region, the unit delivers advanced oncological, reconstructive, continence, endourological and laparoscopic procedures, enabling most patients to receive specialist care locally without the need to travel to Melbourne.

The service is further strengthened by an experienced Nurse Practitioner and Clinical Nurse Specialist who provide expert care across prostate and bladder cancer management, continence care, stone disease, erectile dysfunction and lower urinary tract symptoms.

With a strong commitment to clinical excellence, education and multidisciplinary collaboration, the Urology Unit offers exposure to a broad range of contemporary urological practice within a supportive regional healthcare environment.
